Reports:

Staff- Shane reports the weather has been unusually hot and dry. An arborist was down from PDX and several trees were inspected. A Fir engraver (pest) was identified, and some tree removal will occur to prevent spread. Another beetle attacking Doug Fir was identified and pheromones have been employed for control. Flowers are in bloom, and weekends have been busy. The .net site has weekend work parties for sign up. There will be a call out to people from various crews such as hand cleaning and water to work on sanitation efforts as well in a combined effort.

Work Plan Review

There was a roundtable discussion on taking June and July off. Paxton motioned, Tom seconded to change work plan and take June / July off – resuming August 15th. Motion passed unanimously. Changing the meeting time from three hours to two hours (ending at 2pm) was discussed and the sentiment was to leave it 'as is', but to break early when possible.

Old Business:

Long Term Planning, http://ocfpathplanning.org/studies/LongRange/

Dennis went over the long-range planning website, and growth calculations based on population growth factors. Demonstrating moderate to low growth rate in the public but showing a tripling of internal growth rate at the lowest growth rate. Equating 44K attendees in 20 years. Upper river loop is about 8% of public area being lost which further impacts crowding.

Paxton argues this is the reason why a large new area is needed every 10-15 years. Mouseman points out that automobiles are consuming much space.

Grumpy goes over parking family vs public: Miss Piggy is public, Trotters is public- both full. Dead lot is overflow for public. S Miss Piggy, out of site, winery and all other areas is family parking. Some space for expansion.

Jon states the expansion of new areas always end up with large increases of internal family and feels this is the major cause of internal population growth. He feels predetermination of how to handle developmental aspirations is key.

Dennis points out step 7 in the plan covers this effort, but it can stunt progress if tackled too early on in the process. Also, the growth rates are projections.

Dean mentions in terms of getting more camping for staff – a few acres across from Chela Mela had been mentioned. Camping area needs are in step 5.

Ann recognizes the population growth is only a piece of this since there are many variables that affect carrying capacity. Urges the committee to keep moving forward.

Grumpy says that cars are very engrained in the culture of fair goers. A discussion on transportation and bus service followed.

Shane states the LDT cannot provide any further busses at this time- they have maxed them out at the Fair. Our road infrastructures would need expansion if we had more vehicles.

Paxton says we need to be creative in how we get people to the Fair- it's a very difficult situation. Amy- In looking at internal population, her crew stopped giving parking passes to all crew members and started giving them selectively. Crews camping should leave their cars in town. Passes go out only to out-of-towners and those with small children. Feels other crews should take similar measures. Jon feels there will be advances in transportation in general with the onset of eco cars and will see more of that on site.

New Business:

Work Party potentially on a Friday to pull geranium; the plant has taken over and is very easy to pull out – this is highly encouraged.

May- -Alice's is booked. Will send Zoom link with agenda.

Homework Review:

Paxton: diversity talk for May.

Dennis: Add maps to Path planning website.
